Kathryn Gilliam, BA, RDH, FAAOSH

Kathryn Gilliam is a practicing clinician, published author, coaching consultant, and public speaker who is passionate about empowering dental professionals to elevate the standard of care for their patients.

Kathryn Gilliam's interest in the medical side of dentistry led her to years of advanced study into the oral-systemic link, including graduating from the prestigious BaleDoneen Preceptorship for Cardiovascular Disease Prevention for Healthcare Practitioners—not just once but twice.

Her own company, PerioLinks, LLC, was born out of her desire to train dental teams to transform their practices to care for the total health of their patients through comprehensive periodontal treatment.

Under Kathryn's guidance, dental hygienists become oral healthcare practitioners who powerfully impact the lives and health of their patients. The results are healthier patients, higher production, and re-energized teams.

“We’re not just cleaning teeth, we’re saving lives.”

Kathryn has over 15 years of international coaching and teaching experience mentoring private dental practices of all sizes, and has delivered impactful continuing education courses to both small and large groups across the country.

- Learn the science, the clinical protocols, and the communication skills necessary to transform your practice from traditional oral care to a wellness-centered practice.
- Elevate your identity in the eyes of your patients, team members, and medical professionals.
- Reinvigorate excitement for your career and reignite your passion for patient care.

Hot Stuff: The Fire Within

Extensive research has confirmed the devastating effects of periodontal disease on systemic health. Dental practitioners are in a unique position to restore patient health through comprehensive periodontal care, resulting in improved systemic health and creating loyal patients who accept treatment and refer family and friends. This practice builder is a win-win for patients and care providers.

- Explore the science behind the oral-systemic link
- Integrate salivary diagnostic testing
- Implement the latest adjunctive therapies
- Master effective communication skills to educate patients for improved case acceptance
- Understand nutritional needs of periodontal patients
- Review the anti-inflammatory diet
- Identify targeted nutritional supplements

Three Minutes to Save a Life

Rates of oral cancer continue to increase while other cancers are declining, yet only 14-18% of dental offices screen for oral cancer. Dental professionals know the importance of early oral abnormality detection, but many lack confidence in knowing exactly what to look for and how to discuss concerns with patients. Caring for patients undergoing cancer treatment creates additional uncertainty for dental clinicians, but this interactive workshop helps you navigate these waters confidently.

- Distinguish the risks of oral cancer
- Recognize patients at highest risk
- Master a spa-like, comprehensive examination to set your practice apart
- Review protocols for management of cancer treatment side effects
- Acquire verbal skills to enhance patient education
- Increase treatment acceptance
- Ease patient concerns
- Maximize patient follow-up and participation

“Kathryn is passionate and knowledgeable about oral health care and she is at the forefront of the oral-systemic movement. Her presentation was informative and entertaining and gave us a lot to talk about. Kathryn is a go-to person for professional education and a great mentor to her colleagues. Our organization will happily invite Kathryn back again and again.”
